Shoe Trade Miracles

This is what is taking place in our store. We must make room for incoming goods, which were delayed on account of last month's bad weather, but we have been obliged to use them at reduced prices.

Hence we are able to perform the following trade miracles for the benefit of our customers.

Balance of Men's Fine Shoes, former price $4.00 to $7.00.

All Reduced to $2.50

Most of them are strictly hand sewed welts. These are broken lots of the latest styles of shoes and in nearly every style and width.

410 Spruce Street.

The Wilkes-Barre Record can be had in Scranton at the news stands of M. Minihart, 130 Wyoming avenue; Mac Lackawanna avenue.

INSTANTLY KILLED BY A TROLLEY CAR

Man Was Run Over During Last Night's Violent Storm.

BODY WHEN STRUCK LAY FACE DOWNWARD ACROSS THE RAILS ON CAPOUSE AVENUE AND THE CAR PASSED COMPLETELY OVER IT—ODOR OF LIQUOR AND OTHER EVIDENCE INDICATES THAT THE MAN LAY IN A STUPOR—THOUGHT TO BE NEIL O'DONNELL.

A man who has been doubtfully identified as Neil O'Donnell, a miner, of Depot street, Providence, was run over and instantly killed about midnight last night on Capouse avenue, north of Mulloon street, by a Green Ridge People's line car. The body was frightfully mutilated and identification was made more difficult by the mud and water into which the remains were crushed.

The car was outward bound. It left the dispatcher's office at 11:25 o'clock in charge of Motorman A. Gelb and Conductor Arthur Williams. At Madison street a stop was made and a lady passenger alighted. The rain was coming down in torrents when the car was started. Motorman Gelb related the particulars of the fatality as follows to a Tribune reporter.

MOTORMAN'S STORY.

"I had got the car under full headway when I noticed a figure lying across the track about two or three car lengths ahead. The body lay face downward across the west rail. It lay in the shadows thrown by some big trees. I might have seen it sooner but for the rain which was pouring down in sheets. I set the brakes and the car struck the man and traveled maybe a length before we stopped."

The car was derailed by the body, which lay under the rear platform and was plied to the ground when the car stopped. The accident happened at 11:30 o'clock. W. J. Davis and C. S. Jacobs, of Green Ridge, were the only passengers. A casual examination by passengers and crew showed that the man was dead.

A telephone message for the wreck car was sent and notice was telephoned to Coroner Longstreet's office. The Lackawanna hospital ambulance and Dr. Newbury, of that institution, responded to a call telephoned from the dispatcher's office.

Only a few moments were required for the wrecking crew to lift the car with jackscrews and remove the body. Patrolman Salty and James Rowley, of Wyoming avenue, near New York street, doubtfully identified the remains as those of Neil O'Donnell. The two wheels had passed over the abdomen, the left elbow and right shoulder. The skull was broken and the scalp badly cut.

CAUSE OF ACCIDENT.

Those early at the scene of the accident accepted the theory that the man had stumbled and fallen in a stupor across the rail. This view was borne out by the odor of liquor and the fact that A. F. O'Malley, of 1210 Washington avenue, saw a man staggering northward along the road of about ten minutes before the car came. Coroner Longstreet had not been located at 1:15 o'clock, when the car was placed on the rails and the body was by direction of the police, carried out to the platform of the wreck car and taken to Raub's undertaking rooms. O'Donnell was married and has several children.

LAST OF THE RECRUITS.

Men May Enlist for the Regular Army Until Next Day.

Lieutenant Dentler, in charge of the regular army recruiting station in the Mears building, has perfected his plans according to the orders he received by telegraph on Sunday to report at once to his regiment at Tampa.

Recruits will be sworn in up to noon today. After 12 o'clock no applications will be received. Dr. Harvey, of Wilkes-Barre, will be at the recruiting office to examine those who wish to enlist. The afternoon will be occupied by the recruiting detail in finishing its work on enlistment papers. It is possible the recruits will be sent tonight to Fort McPherson, though it is probable they will not be sent until tomorrow morning. Lieutenant Dentler and the sergeant and private comprising the detail will not leave here until Wednesday. The former has not decided whether they will go via Atlantic with the recruits, or travel direct to Tampa.

Quite a number of desirable men were yesterday influenced to enlist by the announcement that Lieutenant Dentler's stay here was drawing to a close.

THE SCRANTON CASH STORE

Will be conducted in future on a "CASH" basis, which we trust will be mutually beneficial. Our aim in future will be "Prompt Delivery and Best Goods at Lowest Prices."

We are busy waiting on trade and opening new goods, and in a few days will be able to take care of the increasing trade.

Thanking our patrons for past favors, and trusting you will give us a liberal portion of your trade in future, we remain, very truly yours,

The Scranton Cash
Store.

It is expected that at least thirty-five men, the maximum number allowed per car, will be recruited. If the recruits are beyond that number two cars will be used.

RECITAL OF SENIOR PUPILS.

Held Last Evening in the Penn Avenue Baptist Church.

The senior pupils of Prof. Haydn Evans, assisted by Messrs. Thomas Reymond and Richard Thomas, gave a brilliant piano recital last evening at Penn Avenue Baptist church. The programme was a long one, but one of uniform excellence. The piano numbers were given with a spirit and interpretation not always evident among professionals of many pretensions. Miss Annabel Taylor played Mozart's Sonata in D (No. 2) and Misses Louise Place, Myrtle Peck and Allie Price gave selections by famous composers. Miss Mary Cavanaugh rendered with great brilliancy a Bach Impromptu and the Schubert Impromptu in A flat. Misses Thos. Conway, Ella Ketchum, Edith Swingle and Grace Callender played with much taste several numbers. Miss Anna Durkin rendered two Schumann compositions most creditably. Alfred Kuscha and William A. Roberts also played with much finish and taste.

The vocal part of the programme was greatly enjoyed. Mr. Beynon and Mr. Thomas sang both solos and duets with the usual satisfactory effect attained by these popular singers. The last recital at the church this season will be given Thursday evening by Mrs. Genevieve Baker.

NO MORE KICKING.

Apparatus of Phoenix Chemical Company in Shape for Service—Columbia's Engine Returned.

The steady protest from the West Side against an alleged lack of fire protection was silenced yesterday by the return of the Phoenix chemical company's apparatus to service.

Following the disastrous collision of several weeks ago and in which the Phoenix apparatus was badly crippled, a portion of the apparatus was transferred by the company to the West Side chemical wagon to Nay Aug company. This action though imperative and made with the view of best serving the interests of the city at large, was continued up to the present time to clamor for the return of its chemical machine.

The protest assumed such proportions, due to the proximity of July 1, that a portion of several hundred persons was prepared and was to have been presented to the proper city officials this week. Yesterday the repairs to the Phoenix apparatus were completed at Gould's carriage works and the company's engine cleared again for service. The Columbia chemical wagon was sent from Nay Aug company to its original owners and the Nay Aug hose wagon was brought back from the West Side. Peace reigns once more in the department.

Permanent Men Campbell and Troup, of Phoenix and Crystal companies, respectively, have not recovered from the injuries they received in the Linden street collision. It will be several weeks before they will be able to return to duty, and in the case of Campbell he may be idle for a longer period.

AN OBJECTION ENTERED.

Examination of Witnesses from Twentieth Ward Delayed.

The voters that were subpoenaed for yesterday in the Leontoff-Kelly case were from the Twentieth ward, but the contestants' attorneys had not amended the bill of particulars as far as that ward is concerned, as required by court in an order handed down on May 28.

Mr. Holgate went into court and asked leave to amend the bill so as to include the Twentieth ward. Senator McDonald argued that the request could not be allowed as the contestants had not followed out the court's order. Judge Gunster would not pass upon the matter until he had granted a rule returnable Wednesday morning.

Examiners Duggan and Lewis adjourned the hearing until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. No testimony was taken yesterday.

NOT YET IDENTIFIED.

Body of Man Found Dead on West Mountain Still at Price's.

Though many have viewed them, the remains of the man found on West Mountain last Saturday afternoon still are unidentified. It is hoped that some one will yet recognize them. The remains are still lying at Price's undertaking establishment, on South Main avenue.

It was thought at one time that the unknown was identified. The description tallied with a resident of South Scranton and a friend said that it was he. The person then disappeared at home alive and well. Another clue is being followed by County Detective Leysion and something definite may yet be obtained.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

The hearing in the mandamus proceedings of Duin Bros. against City Controller E. J. Robinson was postponed until tomorrow morning.

An appeal from the report of the auditor of Old Forge township was filed yesterday on the part of Silas Randall, one of the supervisors.

Attorney John P. Savage yesterday filed reasons to quash the indictment against Foreman George Clark, of the Hunt & Connel company, for concealment under the act of labor act of 1892. It was alleged that he discharged certain steam fitters because they were connected with a trades union here.

WILLIAM OSBORNE'S BARBAROUS ACTS

Judge Gunster Sentences Him to Two Years and Three Months.

THREE LIQUOR CASES TRIED AND IN ONE OF THEM A CONVICTION RESULTED—T. H. C. MALONEY IS IN COURT TO PROSECUTE A NUMBER OF LIQUOR CASES ON THIS WEEK'S LIST—A CONSTABLE IS CHARGED WITH ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

The second and last week of June criminal court began yesterday. Judge Dunham did not arrive from Laporte, Sullivan county, in time to preside in No. 3, but he will be prepared to do so this morning. Judge Gunster is in the main room and Judge Edwards is in No. 2.

William Osborne, of Carbondale, was severely dealt with by Judge Gunster, but not more severely than he deserved. He was charged with aggravated assault and battery upon his brother-in-law, James Walsh, and assault and battery upon his own wife. He admitted his guilt and was sentenced to two years and three months in the eastern penitentiary.

Mrs. Osborne was put on the stand to throw some light on the case so that the court would be guided in imposing sentence. She related a story of barbarous treatment that savored of Indian ferocity with white settlers on the frontier. She exhibited a collection of razors, knives, clubs, and weapons that he used on her at various times. She related a story of how she was kept in a cage and how she was abused by him in the most shameful way.

BROTHER INTERFERED.

Her brother, Mr. Walsh, came in to stop him from his fiendish work. He was attacked and stabbed with a knife in the neck. Dr. Malan, of Carbondale, testified that the wounds were in vital parts and it was fortunate that they did not terminate fatally. The case of Osborne's unusual conduct was a craze that affected him whenever he was under the influence of liquor.

Liquor cases took up the most of the day. Winifred Gerrity, of Warren street and Beaumont avenue, was called to answer for keeping a licensed saloon. The prosecutor, who is Ellen Noon, a neighbor. She was corroborated by seven witnesses that the defendant sold liquor. One of them said the quality was fit to make a man crazy if he drank much. The jury had not come in with a verdict at adjournment.

Frank Woutrowski, of Priceburg, was tried before Judge Edwards on a similar charge. All manner of strong evidence was given to convict him and the jury was out only ten minutes after they returned with a verdict of guilty. The defendant excused himself by throwing the blame on his wife, that she tended bar, and he also said that his father took out a revenue license.

SUCH ON TRIAL.

Jacob Such was put on trial before Judge Gunster on the charge of selling liquor on Sunday. He keeps a licensed saloon at the corner of South Washington avenue and River street. Thomas Monaghan is the prosecutor. District Attorney Jones represents the commonwealth and Attorneys M. P. Cawley and M. A. McInley the defendant. One of Monaghan's sons admitted he came to town on a freight train and has not drawn any pay since last March.

The defense was opened a few minutes before adjournment, and as it was called by Mr. Cawley, it will prove that Such is a reputable man who paid $500 for his license, and abides by the law on Sunday and every other day in the week; but that the action of Monaghan is out of revenge because Such had him arrested for assault and battery, committed in response to the following question: "Can you pay me $500 to pay me that $500 if you can't?" The case will go to the jury this forenoon.

Ellen Snyder did not appear to prosecute William Staples for malicious mischief. A verdict of not guilty was taken and the case was put on the prosecutor's list. A nol prosequere was entered in the case charging L. E. Giles with false pretences.

Michael Pury was found guilty by the jury without leaving the box. He was charged with striking George McCloskey with a beer bottle on the head on Feb. 5 last at Jermy.

O'HARA NOT GUILTY.

John O'Hara was found not guilty of larceny and receiving preferred against him by Lizzy Stroud. He was charged with stealing six chickens. Attorney John P. Kelley represented the defendant and Attorney C. W. Dawson the prosecutor. John McHugh was acquitted of stealing a carpenter's plane from George Butler. The allegation was that the tool was stolen four years ago. It was found in the defendant's possession last December. A verdict was directed for the defendant because the offense was outside the two-year limit.

The case of Ben Hoover against Hugh Collins and Anthony McHale for assault and battery was tried. Hoover lived on Silex street in the Seventh ward and fell behind in his rent. His landlady took action against him and Collins, who is constable of the ward, came to serve the writ. Hoover did something or other to stop him and a scuffle ensued. McHale was called upon by the constable for assistance, and Hoover alleges that they assaulted him and beat him. He claimed he had a right to resist the constable's writ, because he did not owe a lease with his landlady and the law provides in such event that he must have three months' notice to vacate. The jury was out at adjournment.

OTHER CASES.

Harry Minovich and Andrew Gorgie were called before Judge Edwards to answer the charge of larceny and receiving preferred by Philip Swartz, of Old Forge. The case was just opened. The defense claims it is a debt, not larceny.

Thomas H. C. Maloney, of the North End, recently a crusader against speakeasies, is in court to prosecute the cases in which he is prosecutor. In the case against Elizabeth Beach heard Saturday none of the cops were placed upon her. The verdict was not guilty.

Democratic State Convention.

Altoona, Pa., June 29, Lehigh Valley railroad will sell tickets for $5.00 June 27 to 29 good for return to July 29. Consult ticket agents for further particulars.

NORTH END PAVEMENT.

Appeals from Assessments Will Again Be Heard by City Engineer.

Owing to a misunderstanding of the provisions of the North End paving ordinance, City Engineer Phillips recently issued notices and heard the assessment of appeals of property owners. The ordinance provides, however, that appeals shall not be heard until after the specifications have been completed and filed with the city clerk.

Work on the specifications has been rushed and they will be filed Thursday morning. Notices that appeals would be heard on that day have recently been issued to all owners of abutting property in order to formally comply with the ordinance, although the appeals have once been heard.

It is probable that the city clerk will advertise beginning Friday or Saturday, for proposals to do the work. Many bids and, in a comparative sense, low bids, on account of the great extent of the work, are anticipated. The pavement will be the longest, with one exception, yet laid in the city on one contract. The cost, however, will be less in fact and less in proportion, the reason being of the material, brick, and because of the reduced cost in paving methods in recent years.

A FAMOUS PAINTING.

Sukhorowsky's "Nana" Is Now on Exhibition in This City.

There is an exhibition at the Mears building, 148 Washington avenue, one of the world's most famous works of art, a painting by Sukhorowsky, entitled "Nana," which is valued at $5,000, and took three years to paint. It represents in life-size, a beautiful maiden reclining upon a couch and contemplating with startled admiration the reflection of her own loveliness in a large mirror.

The painter's conception in that of a maiden, who, having fallen into a doze on her couch, clothed only in the wrap in which she has returned from her bath, awakens to find that the wrap has fallen from her body and her exquisite charms are fully reflected in the mirror, whence her gaze is directed at the reappearing of her eyes. The sudden inspiration of joy and surprise at the discovery of her own beauty is reflected in the expression of the eyes. In putting this light into the eyes the painter has produced a marvelous effect, filling the whole picture, the female face and form and the whole surroundings with a gleam of reality which the onlooker has difficulty in removing. The painter, Mikhailo Sukhorowsky, is a Russian. The picture of "Nana" won for him universal renown and gained him admission to the St. Petersburg academy.
